Now Hiring: Sprayer Operator

We are looking for a part-time sprayer operator for this spring (April to July). We offer competitive pay and flexible hours.

Candidate should have their applicator license or ability to obtain, ability to operate sprayer, and willingness to work weekends. Call or stop in to apply!

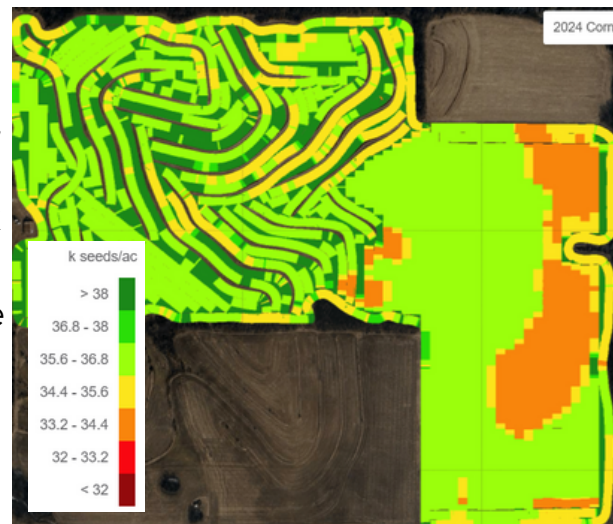

Pivot Bio Discount Deadline Extended

Pivot Bio has extended their discounts through March 5! Lock in your order now at $22.50/acre, which is about 56 cents per pound of nitrogen. Replace up to 40 lbs of synthetic nitrogen with Pivot Bio's nitrogen-fixing microbes that produce nitrogen all season long in the root zone for easy access to the plant.

Planting Prescriptions

Let us help you make the most out of your inputs with planting prescriptions! Variable rate seeding can help increase farm profitability by utilizing your inputs more efficiently to maximize your yield potential. Every field has variability, so why treat every acre the same? Adjusting seeding rates to be higher on more productive acres can translate to better yields, putting more money in your pocket. We use Climate Field View to generate planting prescriptions like the one to the right, based on your yield maps, soil type, elevation, vegetative maps, and other relevant data. Talk with us about how we can help you implement variable rate seeding and to find out what other tools Climate Field View offers for your operation's success.

Weed Control in 2025

The farm economy is tough, and with weak commodity prices persisting, farmers are looking for ways they can save money. While weed control seems like an easy place to cut a few dollars out, be careful not to let your fields get away from you. Weed control has been a challenge in recent years, especially control of waterhemp, ragweed, and marestail. Skimping on weed control this year could lead to bigger issues in the future and could cost you more money in the end. Like the old adage says, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Talk to us about your chemical application plans for 2025 to make sure you have a strong weed control program to set you up for success this season and next.
